Part of modern school history

VS Furniture was founded in 1898 and we have been supplying schools with sophisticated furniture solutions ever since. We have also built a reputation as a long-standing manufacturer of office furniture.

Early on, we initiated ground-breaking and reform-oriented developments, such as school benches with incline and height adjustment. Today, we offer a wide range of innovative and ergonomically exemplary furniture and media, designed to meet all the requirements of modern schools – whether in the classroom, staff room or administration areas.

We are a leading, high-performance full-service provider throughout Europe in the field of educational furniture – with solidly-designed programmes that open up a wide range of uses. We develop integrated solutions for our customers – from a single source. In addition to our range of more than 4,000 products for the education sector alone, we offer a comprehensive service from planning and project management, to ongoing support and training.

School office, reception

The friendly port of call in the modern school

Welcome to the school office. This area comprises two spaces which are clearly separated into a work space and public space. The school office is typically the first port of call for information – not just for students, but also for visitors.

The counter unit is at the heart of this space. It separates the two zones without creating an unnecessary obstacle for contact.

Counters such as these can be designed in various lengths: for example, half-height Serie 700 cabinets with optional complementary add-on counter elements.

A welcoming design contributes greatly in creating a positive atmosphere. Refreshing colour effects underscore this impression.

The Serie 800 cabinet and shelving system provides floor-to-ceiling storage space, essentially meeting all storage and archiving needs for the school office. Modern desks and cabinet walls can create a friendly atmosphere, thanks to the use of light surfaces – or warm wood hues to make visitors feel welcome.

Our suggestions for you are on the following pages. Let yourself be inspired!

Workplace in the school office

Despite the coming and going of frequent visitors, the focus is also on work in the school office. The ideal furniture solution here is a NetWork worktable, with the option to integrate an angled add-on table as an additional worktop, or contact surface.

The LightUp office swivel chair ensures users sit ergonomically whilst working. The OfficeBox mobile container provides personal storage space directly at the workplace, but also offers a convenient seating area for short discussions.

The slender, translucent Serie 2000-T counter element elegantly separates the public area.

Elements for personally designed workplaces

The basic workplace element: the personal desk. The NetWork single table offers a top-quality workplace that looks both sleek and elegant. The OfficeBox mobile container offers storage space close to the workplace. It can also be moved under the table to save space.

The LightUp office swivel chair provides ergonomically comfortable seating, with precise adjustment to suit personal needs.

Thanks to Serie 800, any storage requirements can be met with half-height or floor-to-ceiling cabinets.

How furniture supports your work

Counters can be elegantly and practically equipped with the Serie 700 sliding-door cabinets, where stored documents can be accessed quickly and easily. Add-on counter elements and door surfaces are also available with high-quality wood veneers. The Serie 800 range covers many other storage space requirements.

In combination with the ergonomic EVERYis1 office swivel chair, the slender rectangular desk from the Serie 901 provides the ideal personal workplace.

TopScript-I provides a surface that can be used as a pinboard - an extremely practical solution for the school office. It can also be used in other areas.

The eddy toolbag can be clamped directly to the desk, providing convenient access to the user's personal working materials at all times.

Workplace design in the school office

Serie 901 tables can be converted into spacious workplaces where the technology is perfectly integrated, allowing the entire table surface to be used as a work area. Our OfficeBox mobile containers provide personal storage space. Any other needs can be covered using the Serie 800 cabinets.

The Shape office swivel chair has a built-in synchronised mechanism for the seat and backrest, providing true ergonomic comfort and flexibility. The active Hokki stool also provides a highly convenient, flexible seating solution. The light Serie 2000-T counter element marks the transition to the public area.

Create fresh splashes of colour

Two Serie 901 rectangular tables can be placed side by side lengthways, creating double workplaces. PC and monitor components are easy to integrate. The LightUp office swivel chair provides an extremely comfortable seating option.

Thanks to Serie 800, it's possible to create not only floor-to-ceiling wall cabinets, but also counter elements to meet every need. All surfaces are available with wood veneers, or in a range of colours.

One cabinet system, multiple design options

The Serie 800 cabinets are ideal for use in the school office. The versatile storage space they provide creates more efficient use of the available wall area.

The system can be extended almost without limits in both height and width. This makes it possible to reach the ceiling, bridging over doors or niches where required. Shelving and cabinet elements can be freely combined and individual elements are available with swing doors, roller shutters, or as combined cabinets. Drawers and suspension files, form compartments, or personal mail compartments and lockers are also available as required.

Various body dimensions and different surfaces with a wide range of colours are available.

Discussions in the staff room

Well-equipped for the school working day

Everyday work at the school entails varied tasks for teachers, so the room arrangements and furnishings should correspond to facilitate this.

People come and go all day long in the staff room. Ideally, it needs to provide space for many different things. For example, short chats with colleagues, last-minute preparations for lessons, or gathering together any required teaching materials. It should also provide sufficient space for meetings in small or large groups.

Constantly changeable scenarios like these demand functional, yet highly versatile furniture: For example, the space-saving FlipTable-TF folding tables can be conveniently stored together with their tops tilted vertically until needed. Compass-Soft four-legged chairs are not only comfortable, but also easy to move thanks to their castors. The Hokki active stool is perfect for brief periods of sitting.

The following pages will show you how all this can mesh and function seamlessly and in harmony.

Serie 800 mail and valuables compartments are integrated into the cabinet wall. The TopScript-I elongated wall board provides plenty of space for notices on writing or pinboard areas.

A kaleidoscope of colours

Why shouldn't Staff Rooms be more colourful? We offer you a fresh palette of colours that make it possible to give both chair and table surfaces a totally individual appearance.

The Serie 800 shelving and cabinet system can also be coordinated in the interplay of colours by highlighting certain elements to match other furniture in the room.

Creating an inviting atmosphere

Colour is a key element for creating atmosphere within a room and furniture can contribute to this. The JUMPER Ply Four four-legged chair is available in various wood stains that create a range of effects. They can also be optimally harmonised with the table-top variants of the NetWork single-seater tables.

The colours of the Serie 800 mail and valuables compartments integrated within the cabinet wall can also be included in the design.

Working environment for an entire day in school

The staff room should provide space to meet every need, whether it's concentrated work at a desk, discussion phases, or spontaneous meetings.

The NF-Compass, or swivel chairs like the JUMPER Air Move and Stratos S5, represent exactly the right furniture for this. Cross single-seater tables also harmonise well within the layout. The Serie 901 conference tables and RoundTable are also perfect for group discussions. The Serie 800 shelving and cabinet system can also be equipped with mail and valuables compartments.

Variety in the conference room

Every school needs something different from a conference room. We offer many suitable solutions: for example, a range of conference table variants with different table-top geometries.

These are accompanied by a range of chairs with a variety of seat shells and many different subframe options, from star-foot designs and classic four-legged versions, to forward-sprung cantilevered solutions. For users who only want to sit down briefly, the Hokki active stool is a unique, but ideal choice.

The Serie 901 conference tables excel in both design and function when paired with the cantilevered PantoSwing-Soft chair, or more classic Compass-VF four-legged chair. The Hokki active stool provides a highly innovative, alternative option.

The combination of RoundTable and delicately designed Stratos W visitors' chairs create a particularly elegant appearance.

However, a fully-functioning conference room also needs media equipment and storage space. The eddy toolbag also provides a convenient, mobile resource solution that can be simply clamped to any table.

Workplaces in the staff room

The place for concentrated work

A typical working day at school is often long, where teaching staff are usually expected to perform all manner of varied tasks throughout. Many of these tasks can be carried out best and most efficiently at a personal workplace.

Here, teaching staff can concentrate in peace and quiet on more concentrated tasks, where the busy and often distracting communal areas of the staff room are not conducive. For example, marking assignments, planning class activities, performing organisational tasks, or writing letters to parents.

With intelligent furniture solutions, such workplaces can be designed in a way that perfectly optimises the available space. To make this possible, we supply combinations of harmonised elements. These consist of a single-seater table as an individual work area and a lockable storage room element for work documents and personal objects.

On the following pages, we present a number of ideas regarding how these workplace solutions can be ideally integrated within the staff room.

The teacher's office in the school

Personal workplaces in the school help make life easier for staff. They don't need to take up much space either, as the combination of the HomeBox lockable storage element and the NetWork single-seater table shown here illustrates. The PantoMove-Soft height-adjustable star-foot chair guarantees ergonomic, comfortable seating.

The Lounge series of upholstered elements complement the workplace by offering a space to sit, relax and chat.

Multi-tasking made easy

The Teachers' Support Point offers space for all kinds of tasks. The personal workplaces are equipped with a lockable cupboard LearnBox. The mobile stand-at table is perfect for exchanging information with your colleagues, or for the joint preparation of projects.

The Lounge series vis-à-vis HiBack seating element, with integrated occasional table and visual screen providing acoustic insulation, allows for private discussions within rooms - such as parent meetings.

What's more, everything needed for everyday school use, including notebooks or tablets, can be conveniently packed and carried in the mobile eddy toolbag.

Storage space in the staff room

All-round solution for all requirements

Storage space is always needed! This is typically the case within the staff room because everything is made available on-hand, or archived. Teaching staff also need personal cabinets for mail or valuables, for example.

As a full-range supplier, we can meet almost any challenge a staff room can present. For example, the Serie 800 is an exceptionally versatile shelving and cabinet system highly adaptable to meet a multitude of storage space requirements. It also makes very efficient use of the available wall space.

The system is available in various body dimensions, where individual bodies can be freely combined to suit. As a result, shelf and cabinet combinations can be extended almost without limitation in both width and height.

Serie 800 also offers simple solutions whenever doors or niches need to be bridged over. The combinations can also include wardrobe and kitchen modules, or a wide range of organisational elements such as mail cabinets and lockers, for example.

On the following pages, we present a few examples so you can see for yourself how well Serie 800 copes with the many potential staff room challenges!

Storage space from floor to ceiling

Thanks to the Serie 800 shelving and cabinet system, it's possible to use free wall areas as storage space. The system, which consists of basic and add-on cabinets, can be extended right up to the ceiling. It can also bridge over doors and niches.

The cabinet elements can be extended by drawers, suspension files, or mail and valuables compartments.

Lockable cabinets for the eddy toolbags complement this arrangement further. Right next to the bag compartment, there's also a storage compartment with a slot for personal messages.

Enjoy great design freedom

Floor-to-ceiling shelving and cabinet elements don't have to rob the natural character and atmosphere of a staff room by turning it into a purely functional archive area. The Serie 800 cabinets and add-on elements ensure this is never the case.

Incorporating this solution, surfaces can have different designs, with niche elements providing unique colour facets and highlights. This presents a much less uniform overall design, thus creating a more homely impression.

The colours can be chosen to match the furniture within the room. For example, the upholstered coverings of the NF-Swing or PantoSwing cantilevered chairs.

Meetings with parents, dialogue

Professional environment for meetings

Parent-teacher sessions at school need to promote a trusting, confidential environment and protected atmosphere. All this is defined by the spatial arrangement and ergonomic furniture design.

Such areas can be designed, for example, with a combination of the Stratos W visitor's chair and RondoSit-ST conference table. The warm wood tones are appealing and inviting, with a table-top size designed for confidential meetings in small groups. The padded seat and backrest ensure comfort and also make it possible to achieve interesting colour effects. The Serie 700 sideboard acts as an elegant storage element in this high-quality ensemble.

Upholstered elements with raised backrests can also be used in an area like this. They provide discretion by offering both visual and acoustic separation, ensuring the necessary privacy for conversations.

Work more efficiently in a relaxed atmosphere

Wherever there's a dedicated tea or coffee making area, something is always happening. This is the place where current issues are often discussed and it provides the shortest path for exchanging information. Furniture can further enhance the spontaneous atmosphere of this meeting place in the form of stand-at tables and matching seating elements.

The M-Table with side panels is available in standing height with a foot support to ensure relaxed, active standing. The JUMPER Air Move (Plus) with foot ring also supports this standing/sitting posture.

The teachers' lounge is an inviting place to withdraw and relax. Can comfortable upholstered furniture elements take your mind away from work? Absolutely! They provide a welcoming break from the hustle and bustle of the working day, where teaching staff can enjoy a period of relaxation.

However, they also provide a convenient space for informal discussions in small groups, brainstorming sessions, exchanging ideas and to check and collate documents.

Here, a lot can be discussed and clarified quickly in a relaxed atmosphere. The right furniture for this? Stand-at tables such as RondoStand-ST, TriUnion or TeamTable. With their different basic shapes, they can be combined to form larger units.

They require chairs with a wide height-adjustment range intended for stand-at tables. Chairs which also feature a comfortable foot support, such as the PantoMove-VF (Plus), the NF-Move (Plus) or the PantoMove-LuPo (Plus).

With Serie 800, it's also possible to design kitchen units or integrate kitchen elements directly within the cabinet wall. The Serie 600 mobile catering module can be used anywhere in the building.

Changing working posture

It is essential to switch frequently between sitting and standing in order to maintain an ergonomic balance. The TeamTable stand-at table, for example, invites users to work in a standing position. Thanks to the unusual indented shape of the table top, it can easily integrate everyone in a close-knit cooperative group. The PantoMove-Soft (Plus) has a particularly large height-adjustment range, supporting combined sitting and standing. Feet can also rest in a relaxed position on the adjustable foot ring.

Working and relaxing

Here, there is space for everything: Concentrated work at the teacher's workplace and coordinated discussions with other teaching staff, in a closed-off vis-à-vis configuration. There are also options for relaxation and informal chats in this comfortable Lounge arrangement.

The compact LearnBox cabinet, combined with the equally space-saving Cross single-seater table, provide the necessary workplace. Lounge series HiBack vis-à-vis elements, with integrated occasional table, provide a private team workspace effectively closed off on three sides. The generous rounded form of the HiBack Lounge series is the perfect place to withdraw alone, or in small groups.

Lounge furniture has long been at home in the modern working world. This is evident in the extravagantly designed Lounge series high armrest chairs. Their raised, forward-curving backrest provide a visual screen and discreet acoustics for paired discussions. However, they are also perfect for withdrawing and concentrating alone.

The organic Puzzle seating elements represent an alternative for relaxed sitting in a multitude of ways. The Puzzle free-form table is also equally happy to break with straight-lined convention.

Specialist teacher's office, management

The office as a highly functional work area in the school

The Administrative Office must fulfil various tasks. At the centre, there is a functional desk and an ergonomic, adjustable swivel chair. There is also storage space close at hand, as well as additional options for keeping documents accessible.

It's also important to provide a discussion area, or a visitor's sofa for talks with parents and informal meetings with colleagues. Lastly, the school management office should also give an impression of competence and value, conveyed by the matching attributes and quality of spatial design and furniture.

The Specialist Teachers' Office must enable focused work at the worktable, encouraging the exchange of information between colleagues – thanks to its inviting visitors' chairs, small conference areas and comfortable upholstery elements.

For all these challenges, we supply solutions that provide efficient support for everyday work. Find out more on the following pages.

Base station: the desk

In the Serie 901 desk, the workplace container that provides close-at-hand storage can be directly integrated within the configuration, as an under-desk unit. The Serie 800 half-height sliding-door cabinet provides additional storage space.

The ergonomic Hero-Turn desk chair and the Hero-Swing cantilevered variant, which acts as a visitor's chair, also fit perfectly into this ensemble.

With a desk like the Pareto, motor-driven height-adjustment can be achieved at the touch of a button - permitting frequent changes between sitting and standing for a more ergonomic work balance.

The RondoLift-KF circular table also offers continuous height-adjustment, allowing small meetings and discussions to take place standing.

The Serie 500 sliding-door cabinets are a useful space-saver by alleviating extra space-planning considerations when opening the doors.

Working and discussing

Functional Serie 901 single-seater tables and ergonomic EVERYis1 swivel chairs, form the basis for the workplace. The OfficeBox mobile storage container, Serie 800 half-height and high-cabinet elements with sliding doors, provide storage space.

Thanks to the mobile Compass-Soft visitor's chair, discussions can be held directly at the workplace - or at the RondoSit-ST conference table with its oval, circular or square top. The MediaPro-II media rail can be used for many different purposes, such as working on concepts in groups, for example.

Using available space as economically as possible

The Serie 901 desks contribute to the efficient planning of available spaces. Consequently, the container that provides the personal storage space is integrated directly within the design as an under-desk unit. This means fewer legs are required, optimising space utilisation.

Thanks to their sliding doors, the Serie 700 sideboards also reduce the space requirement: no need to plan for extra space in order to open the doors.

Single RondoSit-ST tables offer different tabletop sizes for additional conference zones. The Stratos S5 chair, with its star-shaped foot rest, ensures a high level of comfort.

The office reinterpreted

Why shouldn't office areas have a homely, welcoming character? This is easily achieved with the JustBe range of furniture. The construction beech used for the wood veneer creates a natural, warm visual appearance and the oblique, tapering legs convey a light, casually elegant impression.

The JustBe tables and sideboards are available as separate elements and also space-saving integrated units. With its moulded wooden shell, the Stratos S5 swivel chair fits perfectly within this range. However, classics such as the SBG 167 R swivel chair and the S 38 S/1 stool from the Egon-Eiermann Collection, also complement it very well.

Workplace and personal conversation

Functional worktable or elegant conference table? With NetWork, both requirements can be realised with a single system. On one hand, as an outstandingly prestigious and elegant solution, on the other, a primarily functional design.

The EVERYis1 office swivel chair ensures an ergonomic seated position, while the OfficeBox mobile container offers personal storage space.

The Serie 901 conference table, with its high-quality materials, is ideally complemented by the Stratos S4 star-foot chair. The NetWork conference table can be ideally combined with the Compass-VF visitor's chair.

Optimally equipped for the school working day

With its functional, linear design, the Serie 901 worktable harmonises superbly with the Serie 800 half-height cabinet units. The RondoSit conference table also combines convincingly with the comfortable PantoSwing-Soft cantilevered chairs.

Individual colour effects can be achieved with the seat upholstery of the Office-Box container – also the EVERYis1 office swivel chair, as well as with the seat shell of the NF-Compass visitor's chair. However, the colours of the subframe and top of the NetWork work and conference table can be harmonised with the Serie 500 cabinet elements.

Janitor, archive rooms

The easy solution for clarity and organisation

In the working life of any janitor, order is half the battle. Having the right shelving and storage system makes a vital contribution when providing as many adaptable and organisational options as possible within the available space.

With its cabinet and add-on elements, the Serie 800 can be extended and combined almost without limits. It can also accommodate plastic drawers of various sizes and formats to store small parts or materials.

However, for janitors, office work means not only storing and archiving, but also documenting and managing. The various formats of the NetWork single-seater table are ideal for this. This table can be combined, for example, with the PantoMove-VF height-adjustable swivel chair and the Compass-VF four-legged visitor's chairs. In addition to round things off, the MediaPro-II media rail.

On the following pages, we present a few design suggestions.

Order reigns in the Janitor's office

The best recipe for keeping things tidy and maintaining a clear overview is a shelving and cabinet system like the Serie 800, which can be tailored to meet individual requirements – thanks to the many organisational options. To this, we can add the MediaPro-II media rail and the TopScript-I elongated wall board. These help ensure nothing important gets forgotten.

The NetWork and Serie 901 worktables and conference tables come in many formats. They can be combined with the PantoMove-VF and PantoMove-LuPo chairs, or the Hokki+ active stool for short periods of sitting.

Storage space from floor to ceiling

The Serie 800 shelving and cabinet system can be extended right up to ceiling height. It can also be used to bridge over doors and niches. As a result, any available wall space can be used for archive areas, or in storerooms for teaching equipment.

A guide rail for a stepladder can also be integrated in the shelving system, enabling items stored at height to be accessed safely at any time.
